Expert, practical and commercially sound advice

Campbell Johnston Clark (CJC) is an international law firm specialising in shipping and international trade. CJC has undergone sizeable expansion in both numbers of solicitors and geographical spread since it was founded in September 2010. CJC advises on all aspects of the shipping sector and has in-depth knowledge of the industry gathered from years of experience working with financiers, brokers, the insurance market, managers and owners.

Highly skilled and specialist practitioners

Our aim is to set ourselves apart with a simple distinction: focusing on the client to ensure better service and client satisfaction.

The team at CJC advises on all aspects of international trade and commodity finance, covering contentious and non-contentious issues arising out of the sale of goods. CJC's practice covers the main commodities (hard, soft, oil and gas) and we have significant experience in the energy sector, including LNG. We handle disputes under contracts of affreightment, charterparties and bills of lading and manage disputes in the High Court and in Arbitration (including FOSFA, LMAA, ICC and GAFTA).

CJC is highly experienced in the law of carriage, the law of trade finance and the law of sale, always seeking an effective and commercial solution to what often are very complex areas of law.

We have a diverse range of clients throughout the supply chain. Our Commodities team is not only highly regarded individuals in the legal field but have real industry experience having worked in-house with commodity houses, shipowners, banks, P&I Clubs and Marine Insurance Syndicates.

24-hour global service

With offices located in the UK and Singapore, we offer a 24-hour global service. This allows us to deal seamlessly with both contentious and non-contentious matters around the clock.

Our focus is always to find the most efficient, cost-effective solution to any dispute.

CJC uses its 'acute understanding of the commercial realities for their clients' to provide 'thorough, well-reasoned and accurate advice' and 'superb service', making it 'one of the most reliable firms in the sector'. Legal 500
